50 Most Common Interview Questions in HR round

Q) Tell me a little about yourself.

I am one of the top graduates of my batch in College. I am known to school as an engineer, having held several positions and responsibilities during my first year. I was a student person who never stops reading or something until it is perfect. It would be a pleasure for me to discuss how I can be of use to your company.

Q) Why do you want to work in this company?

This company is one of the best of most renowned companies every year. I want to play a role in ensuring this company stays on that list. I want to be part of a company that offers me lots of opportunities in terms of products and other sales services.

Q) Do you consider yourself successful?

Yes, during my ... (and career), I have learned to set goals and to make sure I meet each of it. I make sure objectives do not hinder me from reaching my goal, but instead should inspire me to meet more. (before the new position) I am waiting for when will be my next big challenge and be more successful.

Q) Are you willing to travel?

Yes, I am traveling, adapting to new places and meeting new people would be a delightful experience for me.

Q) What are your salary expectations?

At the moment, I haven't thought much about it. I'm more focused on learning the requirements for this position that I am applying for.

Q) What would you consider your greatest strength?

I'm highly motivated person, I don't stop until I get things done. I value other people's time and company's resources. I work to become an expert, not a liability.

Q) What would you consider your greatest weakness?

People say I sometimes act too much as a perfectionist. To counter this, I attended seminars that teach me how to manage myself well.

Q) What motivates you?

Many things motivate me. My goal to be the best of what I can be often motivates me to go beyond my own expectations. When I see my self doing something correctly, it motivates me to continue.

Q) Tell me about your dream job.

The only dream job I've always had was a job that keeps me busy, a job where I get to contribute to the company's success.

Q) Why did you leave your last job?

I left my previous job because I felt I want to do more, to get hold of a greater opportunity to serve.

Q) What experience do you have in this field?

I have worked around 3 years that are still in need to this day. Some of the systems I've served include (mention those remarkable ones).

Q) What do co-workers say about you?

My co-workers (based on I remember) never gets tired of telling other people how brilliant I am when it comes to (specific task).
